

The WATSON Coffee Series

Curated conversations on all things governance. Hear from a WATSON expert and discuss emerging governance matters with a small group of like-minded professionals all before 10AM (PT).

In going virtual (Zoom platform), we're still going to keep the essential interactive component of the session, including keeping this group intentionally small in number and making sure you build new connections into your network.

If the Shoe Fits Finding the Right Board Position

DESIGNED FOR INDIVIDUALS WITH LITTLE TO NO EXPERIENCE ON CORPORATE BOARDS.

This interactive session explores the age-old governance question: how do I get on a board?

John Jennings, Vancouver Board Director and Executive Search Practice co-Lead – informed by 30+ years of board and search experience, will share his thoughts on the matter. John will also facilitate a group discussion to help you identify your director value proposition – what skills, strengths, and experience will make you stand out as a candidate.

At 10AM, you will walk out of WATSON's virtual boardroom with:

- A better understanding of what boards look for in potential candidates
- An honest assessment of why you want to serve on a board
- Knowledge on how to position yourself to be a viable and attractive candidate
- Tips on how to navigate the board recruitment landscape
- New connections in your network

Hot Table Topics

What's the latest on all things governance?

DESIGNED FOR BOARD CHAIRS AND DIRECTORS

The governance world moves quickly and we pride ourselves on keeping pace. These interactive sessions will address emerging trends, challenges, and issues facing organizations each day. Informed by real issues facing clients and facilitated by a WATSON governance expert, we will share our perspectives, expertise and knowledge, diving deep into the root of the issue and providing practical solutions.
